MARC BOSCHER

Marc is the co-founder and CEO of Unito. He dropped out of university to join a dotcom startup, lived the highs and the low of the bubble, and kicked himself back to finish his degree. He was a founding team member of three other technology startups in the medical and digital signage spaces, leading product and technology, before landing on the concept that evolved into Unito. He has spent over 20 years in startups, and there's no end in sight.

ERYK WARREN

Eryk is the co-founder and CTO at Unito.io. Through his background and 20+ years of experience, Eryk's skills cover a rich combination of technical depth, science and creativity applied to SaaS. Most of his career was spent at Silicon Valley startups where he lived first-hand the boom of hi-tech entrepreneurship. With that positive experience in hand, he is excited to participate in the evolution of Montreal's startup ecosystem.
